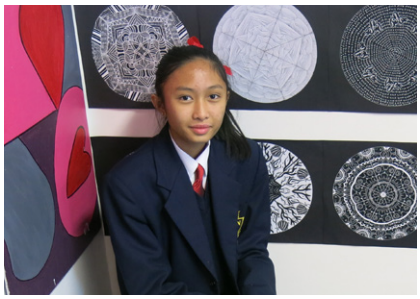
OLSH
OUR LADY OF THE SACRED HEART COLLEGE

Term Three - 4 September 2019 (No.15)

From the Principal



Dear Parents/Guardians, Friends, Staff and Students of OLSH College,

This week I have opted to share with you the Australian Catholic Bishops' Social Justice Statement for 2019 – 2020. As you read the Statement I hope you too will be reflective of how you can promote genuine human encounter.

"The 2019–2020 Statement, titled Making it Real: Genuine human encounter in our digital world, considers the great changes that modern communications technology has brought to our lives. It has revolutionised the way we communicate, work and learn, do business and socialise. Here in Australia over 20 million people are on the internet and 18 million are using social media. For us as Church, there are so many new opportunities to share the Good News of Christ, to bring communities together and to reach out to people in need.

For all these advances, however, there are some serious challenges. The Statement highlights how the dignity of vulnerable people is harmed by online bullying and exploitation. The common good is compromised where certain groups are excluded from the benefits of technology. People's privacy has been undermined when personal data has been appropriated for financial gain. The solidarity of entire communities can be placed at risk by campaigns of misinformation and the spread of 'fake news'.

Pope Francis is calling us to 'boldly become citizens of the digital world' and to ensure it is a place of genuine human encounter. We all have a role in making this new digital world one where hatred and divisions are rejected and our love of God and neighbour is fostered always."

Social Justice Sunday will be celebrated this year on 29 September.

This Friday, 6 September, as you will be well aware we celebrate the Feast of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart. A letter outlining the details about our Feast Day has been sent home. Let's celebrate and join together as one, to support our OLSH family! A reminder to all students and parents, that this is a compulsory school day. It is an expectation that all students will be in attendance for the entire day. A medical certificate will be required for those who do not attend for any part of the day.

You will see in this newsletter, highlights from many OLSH College events including; the Year 12 Drama Production, SALA Exhibition, Subject Selection process, Co-curricular Sports, Book Week, International Study Program, and Excursions. We thank the students, staff and coaches involved in the success of these significant events and programs.

Please mark Thursday 26 September, 7:00pm in your calendar for the Performing Arts Showcase being held in the OLSH College Hall. Our talented Dance, Drama and Music students would love your support. Tickets are $5 and available to purchase at the door.

With warm wishes and great hope for the year ahead,
Maria Urbano, PRINCIPAL

SPORTS RESULTS

Soccer made a return to winter sport this year with a team comprised of girls from Year 7 to 12. Playing in a Senior grade competition the girls fought well against older opposition and achieved some good results. Unfortunately, the season was hampered by injuries to key players including a dislocated knee, concussion and hamstring injury. With some fortune many of our drawn games could have been wins and many of our losses could have been draws. Many thanks to former OLSH student Aalijah Tabuena who coached the team.

Badminton is a popular sport at OLSH highlighted by the 3 Senior teams and 1 Middle side team. Our Senior OLSH 1 team was the pick of the bunch with an amazing season playing in an A grade competition and finishing up in 3rd position. This was great reward for the endless hours of training. Thank you to Tinh Vu for coaching the girls once again.

The Senior OLSH 2 team had a very successful season and after a slow start slowly started putting some wins together and ended up in a very respectable 3rd position in their grade. While not gaining the same success, the Senior OLSH 3 team had some close games but managed some wins in a tight competition throughout the season. We thank Uyen Tran for coaching both these teams in her first season of coaching at OLSH.

An inexperienced but enthusiastic Middle OLSH 1 team comprised of Year 8 and 9 students also represented the school and finished mid table. There was much improvement throughout the season and we thank Nhi Vo for her efforts in coaching the team and teaching them Badminton skills for future years.

Netball thrived once more this year with our Senior and Junior teams both tasting success. Our Seniors who had lost some key players from last season had an up and down year but made it count when it mattered. The girls won their Grand Final and took out the premiership with a narrow win over SAC who had been the team to beat all season. Thank you to Keshia Cole for coaching and on back to back premierships.

Our Junior team was an inspiration throughout the season, they trained hard, supported one another, played games in pouring rain and ended the season on top of the ladder. This close knit team also won their Grand Final in a nail biting affair by 1 goal. Thank you to Neisha Perkins once again for coaching. Quin Scacchitti, Saturday Morning Sport Coordinator

BOOK WEEK 2019

Once again, the Library was a hub of activity as we celebrated the Theme of Book Week "Reading is my Secret Power".

Students enjoyed the colourful displays and fun activities. Each activity was checked off a special book week check list as they were completed. Each activity had a wonderful prize and an overall prize was drawn from those who completed every activity.

The activities included Superhero registration, researching the secret identities and alter egos in an epic Superhero Trivia quiz, drawing a comic strip featuring an original superhero character, a treasure hunt to find special "powerful" books throughout the library, and a very exciting Superhero bingo tournament in which students had to yell "Kapow!" when they won.

The winners were notified on Friday of their prizes and the overall prize winner was Madison.

Book Club Members celebrated at a special recess Morning Tea, where vast quantities of small lamingtons, cakes, fruit and cookies were consumed.

The OLSH Staff were not left out as we all celebrated with a Super Foods Morning Tea on Monday. It was wonderful seeing everyone all together having a relaxing time before heading off to class.

Congratulations to everyone who participated in our Book Week 2019 fun and games.

Tanja Janyckyj Teacher-Librarian & Hayley Mitchell, ESO Library Assistant

LIVING, LEARNING, LEADING

Teachers modelling the development of knowledge, skills and attributes needed to thrive in a rapidly changing and complex world.

The living, learning, leading framework of Catholic Education is a foundation for understanding what we do in Catholic Education, it is the underpinning of all we do in our schools. The most important aspect of any framework or vision statement is how we live it out on a day to day basis and model these practices to our students.

At OLSH College, our teachers are committed to modelling what it is to be continually evolving as life long learners. We are constantly in a cycle of learning, practicing, reflecting and growing to continually improve ourselves, our classrooms and the communities we are a part of.

This year has been no different with teachers developing their ICT capabilities with use of SEQTA, exploring Year 7 pedagogies or a range of subject specific professional learning. In future newsletters staff members will share some of the projects they have been involved in that have challenged them to think differently, develop their skills, try something new or share their learning with colleagues. Each of these rich learning experiences are designed to improve the teaching and learning experiences for all students at the College so that they too can thrive as life long learners who can shape the futures they dream of.

Sonia Venour, Assistant to the Principal - Leading Learning & Innovation

SUBJECT SELECTIONS

The subject selection process is an exciting and significant event for students at OLSH College. For those moving into Year 10 making selections for the first time, through to those in Year 12 choosing subjects for future career pathways. Every effort is made to ensure that students are well prepared and equipped with valuable information prior to confirmation of choices through a continuing learning journey. They have opportunity to explore subjects through the subject expo and discussions regarding recommendations with teachers and learning area coordinators, chance to discover and explore post school options through work experience, careers lessons, the OLSH careers expo, and the option of talking to female career professionals through the career mentors' breakfast. Parent teacher conversations are also invaluable to encourage ongoing dialogue between parents, students and teachers.

All students in Years 11 and 12 attended individual subject counselling appointments with staff on Tuesday 20 August and we trust this supported their decision making for the future. We are fortunate to offer a flexible curriculum at OLSH with a wide array of subject offerings. Thanks to all parents who attended appointments with their daughters at this significant time in their schooling, and to staff for their advice, counselling and support of all students.

Julie Stephenson, Integrated Learning Area Coordinator

Please support our annual St Vinnies appeal by donating your unwanted clothing!

1 clothing item = 1 house point!

Students are asked to please place clothing donations in their allocated House bins near the ICT Office.
Thank you for supporting this important initiative by our Student Leaders!

ROYAL AUSTRALIAN AIR FORCE AVIATION CAMP

Congratulations to Somayeh Ahmadi on being selected to undertake the Royal Australian Air Force Aviation Camp 2019 from 19-22 August. The aim of Aviation Camp is to provide young women with an overview of life in the Air Force, particularly in aviation and engineering roles.

Somayeh submitted a moving application explaining her reasons for wanting to participate in the camp and was particularly clear about the importance of opportunity for young females within the Defence Force. She stayed on base at RAAF Edinburgh for 4 nights gaining firsthand experience of different roles within the Air Force. Somayeh heard from a number of inspirational females who supported her aspirations for a future in the Defence Force.

Her experience included a tour of the base, opportunity to go inside an aircraft, familiarisation with military vehicles, informative sessions about weapons, training, job roles and entry. Additionally, Somayeh took part in a physical training session to gain awareness of fitness requirements for the Air Force. Overall it was a fantastic opportunity and has greatly assisted Somayeh in consideration of her post school options.

Congratulations Somayeh, we wish you well in 'Your Future You' session for entry into the Defence Force.

Julie Stephenson, Integrated Learning Area Coordinator

My initial interest in becoming a pilot started from a very early age and has a childhood story attached. I lived in Iran and my dad was in a refugee camp in Indonesia. My dream as a child was to learn how to fly so that I could go and rescue my dad and I still remember that today! As an Afghan student in Iran there were many restrictions on schooling and opportunity was limited. We had a school visit from some soldiers who came to inspire younger children and we saw images and models of planes. I was inspired but was told that girls couldn't become pilots and at that point I knew I wanted to aim for exactly that. This opportunity would provide me with a chance to gain more understanding of planes, how they operate and what pathways are available for school students into aviation through the Air Force.

With the Air Force it gives opportunities not only to males but to females too and it adds equality to the job. Additionally it provides hands on experience while hearing from professionals, providing even more motivation to join the Air Force. With the Air Force Aviation 'Fight camp' opportunity I would be able to prove to myself and others that I am strong with the ability to protect and serve our county. I believe it is the most demanding job in the World.

I am currently a volunteer with the SES and understand what it takes to be committed and relied upon. I believe the skills I have gained from this position will help me in future endeavours. Additionally, some of the skills such as communication, organisation, leadership and determination that I have practiced within this role will be transferable to other areas such as the Air Force.

CREATIVE NARRATIVE WRITING WORKSHOP

On Monday 26 August Nicola Catalano, OLSH graduate and teacher of English, Drama and History returned to OLSH to conduct a creative narrative writing workshop. Now, a writer herself and author of her recent novel " Can't get you out of my head ", Nicola offered the students in Year 11 Essential English class strategies and language choices which would enhance their writing. Students may lack confidence in their abilities as writers however, Nicola reassured them that through motivation and knowing and applying the craft of writing that "Everyone has a book in them". Grazia Marciano, Teacher of English

YEAR 12 ENGLISH STUDENTS SEE 'JASPER JONES'

Our Year 12 English students were lucky enough to attend the South Australian Theatre Company's interpretation of one of Australia's best-loved novels 'Jasper Jones' written by Craig Silvey. The novel had been adapted for the stage by playwright Kate Mulvany.

The story of 'Jasper Jones' centres around Charlie Bucktin, a bookish 13-year-old, whose life is turned upside down the night Jasper Jones shows him the dead body of Laura Wishart. In a small country town during the summer holidays of 1965, Charlie sets out to find her killer.

State Theatre's performance of 'Jasper Jones' sees the struggles faced by the characters become metaphors for many of the issues in society that need to be confronted by us all. Nescha Jelk's director's notes indicate why she has chosen this play to stage, citing its relevance for Australians because of its honest revelations about racism and inequality in our society.

From the opening scene we were instantly drawn into the setting by the enormous fabric forest that dominated the set on the Dunstan Playhouse stage. The lighting, props and music also worked to transport us back in time to 1965, and into the world of 'Jasper Jones' and its characters.

The audience was captivated by the expertise of the performers who portrayed their characters' unique qualities in a natural and engaging manner.

Following the performance students engaged in a question and answer session with the Director, Stage Manager and Cast, which further enhanced their understanding of the play and its themes.

Helen McPherson, English Teacher

'Jasper Jones' was a brilliant live play to watch as it shares the reality of the 1960s generation and the things they experienced during that period. It covered the themes of discrimination, miscarriage, racism, depression and other social issues. The actors were really professional as they brought the characters to life and the audience could feel their emotions. The set design and props made the audience feel as if they were really in that period of time. Grace, Preston

The characters were portrayed well by the actors and in some suspenseful and strong scenes, I was emotionally moved. Maggie, Agnesi

SALA EXHIBITION - Down the Rabbit Hole

The South Australian Living Artists (SALA) Festival has been on in many venues around Adelaide in the last month. OLSH College participated in the festival, exhibiting works made by over 125 girls. Our show, 'Down the Rabbit Hole', celebrated the creative, visual work girls completed for the foyer and stage production of 'Alice in Wonderland Jnr.'. Congratulations to everyone who worked on all of the visual aspects of the school musical and to Shameen for curating the presentation of our SALA exhibition. I wonder what the next musical will be?

PORT ADELAIDE YOUTH ARTS FESTIVAL

In the coming week 25 OLSH girls will have their work chosen to be exhibited at the Port Adelaide Youth Arts Festival which opens on Friday week. Please take note of the details on the invitation, pictured right. The show is a celebration of art works from secondary students from schools in the Port Adelaide / Enfield Council district, and it is a wonderful opportunity to see the girls work in a major display alongside their peers from other schools. The 25 girls whose work has been chosen will be advised before the show begins.

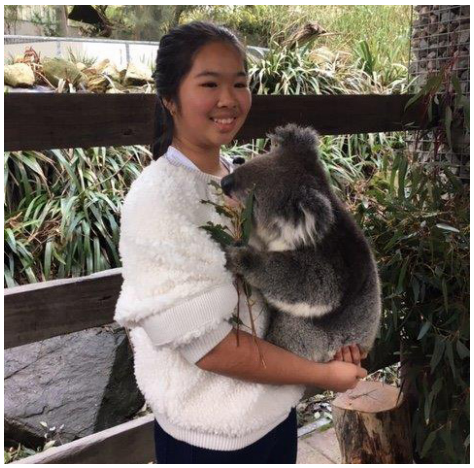
INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM

Term 3 for OLSH International has been a hive of activity. We welcomed 5 new International students from Vietnam and Italy with a further 10 study tour students from the Province of Cheongju, South Korea. Dr Sue Knight, our Deputy Principal warmly welcomed our newest students at an International party held on 30 July. As always, the party was filled with the new friendships, Banh Mi and fun.

"First time on an aeroplane, a new country and new people. I stepped into a new environment which made me worried and nervous. But in a blink of an eye, I met my new friends and teachers who were waiting for me and ready to start a new journey with me." Catherine (International student, Year 7).

An excursion into Adelaide CBD on 8 August, was a chance to show our Korean visitors the beautiful sights of our city. First, we visited the Mortlock Library where the girls were fascinated by the ornate interior design. Our next stop was at the Art Gallery, and then it was off to a delicious lunch at the Central Markets, 'Chinatown' and finally, souvenir shopping in Rundle Mall.



Our next excursion was to Melbas Chocolate Factory, the Big Rocking Horse and Gorge Wildlife Park in the Adelaide Hills. New international students joining OLSH in 2019 were accompanied by the Korean students for another day of discovering Adelaide.

Our Korean students have now returned home. We thank all our lovely staff, students and homestay families for making their study tour such a wonderful experience. As one of the Korean students lamented, "I will miss OLSHie very much." Hyeon.

WAYS TO IMPROVE YOUR EMOTIONAL HEALTH

Good emotional health helps us handle life's ups and downs. It also helps how we handle stress, relate to others and make healthy choices. Being an adolescent is tough as there are huge physical, emotional and neurological changes that happen rapidly. The brain is constantly rewiring itself during this time.

Things You Can Try

- Do things that positively impact on others. Being useful to others and being valued for what you can do can help build self-esteem.
- Practice self-discipline. Self-control naturally leads to a sense of hopefulness and can help you overcome despair.
- Learn or discover new things. Learn a language, visit a museum or go somewhere new.
- Enjoy the beauty of nature or art. Studies have shown that walking through a garden can lower blood pressure and reduce stress. The same goes for going to the beach or an art gallery, hiking or sitting on a bench.
- Manage your stress levels. Stress is a part of life but can be managed effectively. Get enough sleep (at least 8 hours), eat enough and participate in some form of physical activity.
- Limit unhealthy mental habits like worrying. Try to avoid becoming absorbed by negative thoughts about yourself and the world that suck up time, drain your energy and trigger feelings of anxiety or fear.
- Choose gratitude. Write down or think of 3 things you are thankful for every day. Focussing on them sets a positive tone for the day.

When To Seek Professional Help

- Inability to sleep more than a few nights.
- Feeling down for longer than a couple of weeks.
- Concentration problems that are interfering with your life.
- Distracting yourself with food, excessive gaming or drugs.

Who To Go To

- A parent or trusted family member (Aunt, older sibling or older cousin).
- A trusted teacher or The School Counsellor.
- A friend can listen and support us but sometimes we need to involve an adult.
- An outside agency or Doctor (usually you need to involve an adult to help refer you).

Always ask for help if you are struggling as there are people in your life that will support you and help you through the difficult times.

Carol Adams, Student Counsellor

PARENT AND CAREGIVER SURVEY (PaCS)

Staff, students and parents/caregivers are invited to participate in a survey about the school climate at OLSH College. As parents/caregivers will be asked to indicate your answers online by selecting the response that best describes how often each statement occurs. This survey is being facilitated by National School Improvement Partnerships in association with Curtin University (WA).

OLSH College values your feedback and we will be using the information collated to help develop strategic directions and actions for next year and beyond. The feedback does not include information about individuals and individuals cannot be identified through the data presented but rather it is collated together into graphs and information for the College to analyse and inform planning.

There are no right or wrong answers, the College is genuinely seeking your impressions and responses to the questions asked. You will have the opportunity to respond to a range of statements using a scale of almost never, rarely, sometimes, often and almost always.

To respond to the Parent and Caregiver Survey go to www.NSIPartnerships.com.au and enter the access code OLSH19 in the Questionnaire field.

The survey will be open until Thursday 19 September 2019 (ie Term 3, Week 9). You will have received a letter with details also.

Thank you for your time in completing this survey and helping the College find out how we can continue to develop and improve OLSH College for the benefit of your daughter. If there are any queries please don't hesitate to contact the College Office on 8269 8800.

OUR LADY OF THE SACRED HEART FEAST DAY
A Time to Celebrate Relationships

Our annual Feast Day Mass, celebrating Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, will be held on this coming Friday, 6 September. Affectionately known as the "Babies Mass", we invite the babies and young children new to our community to be blessed at the ceremony. It is also the occasion on our calendar when we recognise and contribute to the Missions of the Daughters of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, our founders.

'Our Lady of the Sacred Heart' is a unique title given to Mary that highlights something very important to our community - and one of the central mysteries of life - human connectedness. I'm at the age now when a lot of my friends are having their first children and something that always stands out to me is the profound intimacy that I see between parents and newborns. Those moments when a baby is transfixed by the loving gaze of a mother or father, their little eyes wide with wonder, seem to me to be the height of intimacy, something truly transcendent. Our feast day reminds us that the kind of deep connectedness that we see embodied in the relationship between parent and child is sacred. When we think over the relationships in our own lives I think we can get a glimpse of some of the implications of these sacred connections. They define us at the deepest level, they call us to the fullest version of ourselves, and they open up to us the presence of God. There is an ancient hymn that includes the line Ubi Caritas, Deus ini est (Where there is love, God is there), it is in our most intimate relationships that we experience the divine sustaining us and drawing us close.

So as we approach our Feast Day on Friday we are invited to call to mind all of those relationships that sustain us, that give us life, and we celebrate our wonderful community at OLSH, a place where relationships and connectedness are valued as the most profound treasures. Finally, when we see the little ones with their parents being blessed at mass, clinging to their Mums, we are reminded not only of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, but also of the love of God that underpins all that we do.

CELEBRATING SOCIAL JUSTICE SUNDAY 29 SEPTEMBER 2019

This year, the Australian Bishops' Social Justice Statement is titled:

'Making it Real: Genuine human encounter in our digital world'.

It shares Pope Francis' challenge to us to 'boldly become citizens of the digital world'. It points out that we are called not just to be inhabitants of this world, but active citizens shaping it. Social Justice Sunday is celebrated on 29 September 2019.

For further details about the Social Justice Statement, visit the Office for Social Justice website: www.socialjustice.catholic.org.au or Facebook: @socialjusticeACBC

OUTSTANDING FOOTBALL SEASON

We congratulate Isabella and Tanisha in Year 9, for making it to their Football Grand Final on 18 August. Both students play club Football for Broadview, Under 16's Girls, Division 3 team.

Although they played in trying weather conditions (it hailed during the game) the Broadview Tigers were hungry for the ball and never gave up, putting in 100 percent effort throughout the match.

The final score was 2.5 (17) to 1.1 (7), Broadview being the runners up on the day. Both Isabella and Tanisha are to be commended for playing a great game and being ambassadors for Women's Footy.
